

Safer Internet Day (SID) is organised by Insafe (as part of its joint umbrella agreement* with INHOPE - the International Association of Internet Hotlines) each February to promote safer and more responsible use of online technology and mobile internet, especially amongst children and young people across the world. Each year hundreds of events are organised to raise awareness about online safety issues.

Over the years, Safer Internet Day has become a landmark event in the online safety calendar. Taken up by the Insafe network as one of its earliest actions in 2005, Safer Internet Day has grown beyond its traditional geographic zone. In 2009, the concept of Safer Internet Day Committees was introduced, to strengthen the bonds with countries outside the network and invest in a harmonised promotion of the campaign across the world. There are currently 41 committees and 34 organisations working closely with the Insafe coordination team, which is based at the heart of the European Union in Brussels.

SAFER INTERNET DAY 2013

Celebrating the 10th Safer Internet Day: Connect with respect

5 FEBRUARY 2013

Celebrating the 10th Safer Internet Day

The first Safer Internet Day (SID) took place on 6 February 2004, and was the brainchild of the SafeBorders project. It was celebrated in 14 countries (13 EU countries and Australia). Since then SID has continued to grow each year. In 2005 the number of countries more than doubled with more than 30 countries and 65 organisations participating worldwide, while most recently 99 countries came together to celebrate SID 2012.

Every year the Insafe network works to find new ways to celebrate SID, with no two campaigns being the same. Previous actions include: a storytelling contest, a worldwide blogathon starting in New Zealand and moving west across several time zones to Argentina, competitions, campaign videos and animations and special resources for schools.

Most importantly, since 2008 each SID campaign has been focused on a specific theme, with previous themes including connecting generations, virtual lives, cyberbullying and social networking.

2013 will be the 10th anniversary of Safer Internet Day celebrations. With a theme of 'Online rights and responsibilities' and the slogan 'Connect with respect', we hope you will join with us and SID supporters across the globe to raise the profile of safer internet on Tuesday 5 February.
